The acting allowance payable under article 83(c) M.S.R. to an officer whose substantive appointment is progressive and who acts in a progressive appointment is now subject to a ~~disability~~ restriction. ~~This~~ ~~disability~~ The restriction is that he is precluded from drawing anything more than an amount consisting of the maximum pay of his substantive appointment plus one-fifth of the minimum pay of the appointment in which he acts. I do not think there is sufficient justification for this disability, and this is evident from the fact that if his substantive appointment had been on fixed pay he would have been permitted to draw as acting allowance, sums not exceeding the stages of the pay of the acting appointment in which he acts. There is really no difference between the two cases. It is true that in cases coming under article 83 (c) M.S.R. an officer is permitted to draw his own increment while acting in another progressive appointment. But this is only a matter of calculation. What is allowed to him as an increment in his substantive appointment, while he is acting in another appointment is really paid to him as the salary of the acting appointment. The rule as it now stands, operates harshly in a large number of cases and I think it is necessary to change the rule so as to permit of the principle of calculation ~~admitted~~ adopted in respect of cases coming under article 83 (b) being followed

The Govt do hereby waive all objections that they might entertain in connection with staff in the Dept. being given pay followed in cases coming under article 83 (c) also. The alternative suggested will not involve any large additional expenditure but, it will remove what has long been felt to be a great grievance on the part of people whose cases come under it. I would, therefore, suggested that clause 83 (c) (ii) may be amended as under and that notes (1) and (2) under it be deleted:-

Substitute for clause 83 (c) (ii) the following:

" The acting allowance calculated on the pay
" to which he would, from time to time, have " arisen if he had held the officiating appoi
" ment substantively, subject to the condition
" that the salary shall not, at any time, exc
" such pay."

DEPT. OF ... REGD. 21 MAR. 1924 Reg. 6804

Submitted to His Highness.

Under Article 83 (c), M.S.R., an officer whose substantive pay is progressive and who acts in an office the pay of which is also progressive, is precluded from drawing, as acting allowance, anything more than one-fifth of the minimum pay of the acting appointment. There is not sufficient justification for this disability, and this is evident from the fact that if his substantive appointment is on a fixed pay, he is permitted to draw as acting allowance, sums not exceeding the stages of the acting appointment in which he acts according to clause (b) of the same article. There is really no difference between the two cases. It is proposed to adopt the same principle of calculation of acting allowances, whether an acting officer's substantive appointment is one on fixed pay or on progressive pay, by substituting for Article 83 (c) (ii) the following:-

> "The acting allowance calculated on the pay to which he would, from time to time, have risen, if he had held the officiating appointment substantively, subject to the condition that the salary shall not, at any time, exceed such pay."
